Ask For School Millage Recount

By Rod Denley
The final work in the Crawford AuSable school millage for education now hangs on the outcome of a recount to be held this week on the validity of the election. At the last meeting of the Crawford AuSable board of education Fraser Dean, school superintendent informed the board Monday night that a Grayling citizen had requested the recount. Dean said the person, whom he declined to identify, had filed the request within the proper time period at the office of county clerk Leo Lovely. It is now up to the county board of canvassers to recount the ballots.

The issue of the millage renewal in this county was defeated in the June 13th election by only six votes. School officials said following the meeting that there was a definite possibility that the recount could have an effect on the outcome.

The recount is to cover the paper ballots used in the precincts of Lovell and Frederic but will not cover the machine ballots of the City of Grayling. Dean said the recount was requested because of the possibility of error in either the total count of the ballots or the possible error in the marking of the ballot.

He asked the board to make

HOME SWEET HERON HOME—Many people have seen the nests of many birds but few have seen the Great Blue Heron as it tries to keep up with the voracious appetites of its youngsters. Many of the babies have hatched and demand constant feeding to keep their hunger appeased. This is hard working parent takes wing form a lofty nest to seek more food for two fledglings which can be seen in the lower right hand corner of the nest. They will soon be flying themselves and will have youngsters of their own to care for an try like all parents to keep them fed. Rod Denley Photo.

Controversial Sewer Projects Continue

By Rod Denley
Another in the long series of public hearings relating to the controversial Grayling Township and city sewers projects has been completed and both projects are still under the public eye. The city project is going ahead as scheduled although Robert Larson the severest critic of the project will continue to meet on an individual basis with the engineers and city officials about the project. The township project will come before the taxpayers in the form of questionnaire to be filled out and submitted to the township as an indication of the desire of the local taxpayers towards the project.

At the latest public meeting Bernie Fowler, township supervisor indicated there would probably be a negative response to the questionnaire but said it had to be done in order to comply with the regulations for funding.

Engineers for all the phases of the two projects appeared at a public meeting last week to answer questions which had been submitted in writing. No further comments or debate were allowed at the meeting. Larson objected several times during the meeting against the process and many people following the meeting complained that it was not a public meeting but simply a "lecture session" as one member of the Crawford County Taxpayers Association put it.

The other main critic of the project, William Buc, who also attended said following the answer period, "This has all been a waste of good time which I could have spent

A mill from which millions of board ft. of flooring was shipped will soon house thousands of board feet of plywood.

Workmen have been spending many weeks and hours of labor in converting the former Kerry and Hanson Flooring Mill into a warehouse for the Wholesale Plywood Division of the Georgia-Pacific Co.

Thane Hendershot, present owner of the huge building was there as contractors poured yard after yard of concrete onto the new floor of the building last week.

Workmen cleared out the old flooring and joists to make room for the new floor. "There wasn't a rotten piece of wood in the whole thing," said Hendershot. "We took out 1,250, 2 x 12s that were all 12 feet long and they are in beautiful shape," he said.

The massive building was constructed 65 years ago for the production of hardwood flooring. It is constructed of large beams and trusses which are over 75 ft. long. From the floor to the top of the ceiling is over 70 ft. and a long tall, cupola runs down the center of the roof with many windows which were designed to light the interior for the workmen in the days before huge electrical lights were available.

The main part of the building is over 300 ft. long and overall it is over 500 ft. It contains a total of 25,000 sq. ft. of storage space says Hendershot.

The floor was completely torn

Price Increase

Due to the rising cost of production and Newsprint, the Avalanche is forced to raise the price of the paper on the newsstands to 20 cents effective with the July 6th issue.

At present the subscription rate will remain the same, $7.00 in Crawford, Otsego and Roscommon Counties, and $8.00 per year elsewhere, and will depend on postal rate increases.

Girl's State Representative

The Frederic Hobby Club chose Miss Ann Rolfe to go to Girl's State at Olivet College this year. She was there from June 11 to June 19th. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Rolfe of Maple Forest and has an older brother.

Ann is a member of the National Honor Society and has also been a member of the choir for a year. She has played Varsity Volleyball for two years and was a part of the stage crew for the musical "Lil' Abner", which was presented at Grayling High School.

Her hobbies include skiing, swimming, motorcycling and painting. She will graduate from Grayling High School in 1978 and will probably attend college.

Kirtland Aviation Program Faces Problems

By Rod Denley

Kirtland Community College has until Sept. 30th to bid on their expansion of the Aviation Maintenance building in Grayling or lose the funds set aside by the Upper Great Lakes Regional Comm. (UGLRC).

This latest development in the long struggle to get their building program was outlined to board members at their regular meeting last Thursday. A letter from Roger R. Rehberg, regional director of northeast Michigan for the UGLRC, to the college states, "Please be advised that the UGLRC has made a determination to deobligate grant funds amounting to $122,864 intended to assist the Kirtland Community College (KCC) effective Sept. 30, 1977.

This decision was determined by UGLRC officials due to the great need of funds by projects which are ready to bid. As you may be aware, UGLRC has a standing commitment to exercise funding as expeditiously as possible to effect needed economic development.

We want you to be aware that the commission supports the intent of your project and if you are ready to bid by Sept. 30, it will consider re-funding your project when you are ready.

Personally, I believe in the old axiom "a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush" because programs can change with time, therefore, I hope you can expedite your program so that funding can flow.

Both Rehberg and the KCC attorney William Jennings of West Branch appeared at the board meeting to answer questions on the problem.

In a letter to the board, Jennings outlined the possibilities. "It appears as though the college has three alternatives: (1) let the matter drag out and forfeit, at least for the time being, the grant money which is available; (2) attempt to get some grant money allocated for participation in the purchase of Grayling Air's rights to get them out of the picture as soon as possible; or (3) vacate the Grayling Air site and take the grant money for relocation on a new site."

Rehberg stressed to the board that there was absolutely no way that UGLRC could provide funds for the purchase of Grayling Air's rights as outlined in option 2 of the Jennings letter.

"I don't know of any way of getting any kind of funding to participate in buying off the lease," he said. The airport controversy is now at the stage where the City of Grayling, County of Crawford and Grayling Township have made a cash offer of an undisclosed amount to purchase the Grayling Air operation.

Before the college can expand their present program at the site they must have a clear lease on the property. The college hopes to double their aviation school size and provide classrooms and hangar space.

The community of West Branch has made overtures to the college to move their facility from here to the airport in their community. Last week Homer had said that the college would move only if the funding for the expansion was going to be lost.

With that possibility looming the college trustees debated at length the possibilities of such a move. KCC trustees Wayne Steunol, who is also chairman of the West Branch Airport Board (which has invited the aviation school to their location) asked if there were working drawings at this time for the expansion.

He said he thought it may be a good idea to go ahead with the expansion at the West Branch site rather than waiting for the completion of the legal debate in Grayling.

It was then pointed out by Chairman Bovee that the grant money was for the expansion of the Grayling site and not another location. Steunol then suggested moving the whole

Organizers say the meeting will be informative and deal with the issue of taxes, and urge all interested to attend.

Building Approved for Kirtland

By Rod Denley

Kirtland Community College had gone over the highest hurdle in an all-out effort to obtain the necessary funding for the construction of a proposed General Services Building.

Kirtland board chairman Robert Bovee told the other board members last Thursday night that the proposal for the new building has been approved by the Joint Capital Outlay Committee in Lansing.

The proposal must still pass through both houses of the legislature and receive the approval of Governor Milliken before construction can begin said acting college President Raymond Homer.

Officeholders Required to File Organization Statement

Michigan's new Election campaign Finance Law went into effect on June 1, 1977.

Under the law, all current elected officeholders are considered to be candidates, and will be required to file a Statement of Organization with their county or the State sometime during the month of June.

In addition, the law applies to any other committees now being formed or already in existence for future elections. They too must file Statements of Organization. This would include other candidates, as well as other individuals and organizations who would support or oppose any candidates or issues during upcoming elections in Michigan.

The forms and instructions for filing the Statement of Organization for committees are available at the offices of all the county clerks and at the Campaign Finance Reporting Section of the Electors Division in Lansing.

The newly effective law covers nearly 24,000 current officeholders. According to Secretary of State Richard H. Austin, "The law affects everyone who now holds an elective public office, whether on the state, county, or local level, and includes judges and school board members."

Austin noted that every person now holding an elected office in Michigan and every political committee now in existence has an obligation to meet a June deadline for filing a Statement of Organization. "I would hope they contact us or their county clerk as soon as possible in order to obtain the forms and instructions to comply with this law."

Grayling High School's Varsity baseball squad, under Head Coach "Butch" Hayes, has compiled an excellent 14-4 overall season record including a perfect 5-0 MHS-Conference mark.

The Vikes copped the Class C District title two weeks ago but were eliminated in the Regionals held this year in Sanford by Saginaw Carlton, 7-3. The Vikes made Petoskey their latest conference victim when they knocked off the Northmen, 12-8 here at home last Thursday.

"We're getting lots of base hits," said Coach Hayes about his team's season, "and good relief pitching from Dan Bonamie."

Leading hitters for Grayling include Steve Olsen, Al Johnston and Will Roach. Vike pitcher Chris Austin has hurled his way to a 4-0 record; Al Johnston is 5-1, Dan Bonamie, 3-1 and Marty O'Mara, 1-0.

Grayling entertained Cheboygan on its home diamond Monday and traveled to Rogers City to face the Hurons on Wednesday. The squad concludes the season June 30th against Gaylord here at home.

From Our Corner...

Hi...we're glad you turned to our corner...at first this evening we thought we were going to have to come out with one of our famous blah corners this week due to our blah day.

But then, we remembered about a few notes we jotted down to use in case Monday turned out to be a blah day...

We hope you bear with us as we answer a note in a subscription renewal, a phone call from the Pentagon, a request for our help to boost the Booster Club, two other side remarks for commercial space, with the mention everyone reads our corner (guiltily me) -- and last, but by far not least...the railroad tracks.

First off...we were happy to learn we retained a subscriber in Atlanta, Ga., and look forward to the summer visit of Howard and Norrine Cogan who have many friends in the area.

We were sorry we missed the call from D.C. from Col. Rasak, but will use this means to let Uncle Carl know we received his message—we only hope his memory is better than those who winter in Florida when they promise to bring in some orange pop.

When the President speaks, there are some of us who listen...in this case, Prez. Irv reminded us that the Booster Club was going to be the beneficiary of the "Large Fries" for the "Small Fries" at McDonald's Tuesday, June 28th, and asked if we would mention the fact here.

Really, we could extol on how, old, remodeled changes in business just about every week in our corner--no way will we--our exception this week concerns two new businesses downtown, and involves places for our younger generation to meet...and also invite us older persons to come in...

The "Nickelodeon" could possibly pass as the reincarnation of the original Sorenson's Sporting Goods, where Robert Hannan and Mike Branch have brought back the era of the straw hats, striped vests, and the atmosphere of the days we unfortunately missed...

Next door is the "House of Jack's", a game emporium that has just opened in the Salling-Hanson building and owned by Jack Hull. There are all sorts of pin ball games for young and old...and in our opinion, the most important aspect here is a "no smoking" rule prevails.

Now for the tracks--it was beautiful driving west Sunday afternoon--someone found out how to fill in railroad crossing with black top--now we wait for some sort of traffic control lights...we'd even settle for hand-me-downs.

Late Monday night we received a letter from "Committee for Excellence in Education" without a signature. If the author of the letter would come into the office and sign it, we then would consider publication.

The Throne in Heaven

Rev. 4:5-6a Part 2

The throne of God in heaven is the source of salvation, deliverance and reward for all true saints of God, but it is also the throne of divine justice and judgment upon all unbelievers who have rejected Jesus Christ as savior and Lord. Last week we saw the raptured Church before the throne of God in glorified splendor. This week we shall observe the picture of God's wrath going forth from His throne.

"And out of the throne proceeded lightnings and thunders and voices; and there were seven lamps of fire burning before the throne, which are the seven Spirits of God." Rev. 4:5. These symbols speak in the Bible of divine judgment. Please read Psalms 29:3-5 and Exodus 19. While there is a rainbow visible to the glorified Church in heaven, there are only storm clouds filled with lightnings and thunderings of wrath visible upon earth.

The seven Spirits of God speak of the sevenfold or perfect ministry of the Holy Spirit even as described in Isaiah 11:2. The Holy Spirit is invisible to man, but is made manifest through symbols like the dove at the baptism of Christ and the tongues of fire at Pentecost. Here the Holy Spirit is manifest as seven lamps of fire. The same Holy Spirit who brought light and warmth to all true believers will someday search out all sin upon the earth for the divine judgment pictured by fire.

Notice in contrast to the divine judgment proceeding forth from the throne of God, is the "sea of glass like unto crystal". Rev. 4:6a. Since this is located "before the throne" it seems to well picture the Old Testament lavers or washstands used for the cleansing of the priests before they entered the presence of God. This was called the sea of brass in the tabernacle, or the molten sea in the temple. Both of these lavers were filled with water and the priests were required to wash there for various ceremonial rites. No priest could enter the Holy of Holies, or God's presence, without this cleansing.

The "sea of glass" before the throne of God here in Rev. 4:6 seems to picture the perfection of the saints as they stand in the presence of God. The sea is made of glass rather than water to picture the performance of their cleansing. The water-like appearance of glass will remind them that while on earth the water of God's work continually cleansed them from sin.

The throne of God is the only source of salvation and damnation. Every human being will face the throne of God someday in salvation or damnation. This choice is made here on earth as you decide what to do with the person, word and work of the Lord Jesus Christ. You will either accept Him as your savior now, or face Him as your judge then. There are no alternatives provided in the Bible. (adv.)

Larson attended the city council meeting following the end of the sewer meeting and demanded to see the pumping rates for the present sewer system and left the meeting to obtain a copy of the documents. Buc also attended as an observer.

The questions presented for answering by the engineers dealt with many technical aspects of the sewer project including flow rates, soil types and many other issues.

In an interview Monday Fowler made clear that although some people have asked that the engineers involved in the township project be dismissed, the process of government funding demands a more responsible approach than that.

He said the questions to be asked will go to the people who would be in the planned service area for the sewer project. He said the questions would be directed towards any problems they had with their systems and would probably also ask their reactions to the proposed project.

He said this questionnaire was more supporting evidence that was needed as an indication of the will of the people concerning the project. He said this and other data will be filled to the Environmental Protection Agency and the State. He said that the loss ends must be tied up in responsible manner rather than just abandoning the project. If the correct procedures are not followed there is a possibility that funds granted for the study might not be forwarded to the township he added.

"We have to follow the correct procedures in handling this project," he said. Fowler also pointed out that in the future the township may have to go back to these agencies for funds and had a responsibility to handle the township affairs in the proper manner at this stage.

There were indications from one engineer during the meeting that the Dept. of Natural Resources could at a certain stage step into the picture and order the sewer project built.

When questioned about this possibility Fowler said that such an event had taken place in other areas. He said the procedure usually followed is that the DNR gets a court ordered bond for the work to be done.

Fowler said that in his opinion however, "I do not see it happening in our case."

Fowler said the cost for the city and township study so far have amounted to $65,000. He said that $8,000 was spent for the initial preliminary study. If nothing had happened at that point the township would have been liable for the full amount.

The next step was the $57,000 facility plan study which produced the report which began the public controversy.

However, once this step was taken the costs for both studies were shared by the township and city along with 80 percent matching funds from the other branches of government.

"Two Cents Worth"

By Rod Denley

This week I would like to devote my column space to the presentation of part of the speech made by Harold F. Mayfield, to the graduating class of Kirtland Community College.

Mr. Mayfield is a distinguished orthodontologist and an extraordinary man in his own right. His speech was on Dr. Jared Potter Kirtland; an amazing personality whose accomplishments included the discovery of the Kirtland's Warbler. His remarks:

Fully as interesting and admirable as the bird itself is the man after whom the bird was named. Dr. Kirtland was a physician, a remarkable man that we are moved to exclaim, in the language of the Bible, "There were giants in those days." Dr. Kirtland was a physician, but he is remembered most as a teacher, horticulturist, zoologist, legislator, and public-spirited citizen...truly one of the most eminent Americans of the last century.

Although living in what was then the West, far from the intellectual centers of the East, he was not an obscure, self-taught country doctor. He was a famous physician whose practice for many years was limited to consultation. He had been educated at the best schools. A part of his boyhood he lived in Connecticut with his grandfather, a famous physician. His grandfather believed the best medical school in the world was at Edinburgh in Scotland, but the War of 1812 prevented young Kirtland from attending there, and instead he went first to the University of Pennsylvania and then to Yale. His interest in nature already was apparent, and while still a youngster he discovered that silk worms could reproduce asexually. At school he wrote a thesis on native plants with medicinal value.

After practicing medicine a few years in Connecticut, he moved to the vicinity of Cleveland, Ohio, where he remained for the rest of his life. As a physician he was ahead of his time. He was on the faculty of the Ohio Medical College in Cincinnati, and he was one of the founders of the Western Reserve Medical College in Cleveland. He wrote a paper expressing the view that typhoid fever came from drinking water, and he advised the city authorities on the placement of the water intake in Lake Erie where there was the least danger of pollution. All of this 30 years before Pasteur established the germ-theory of disease. Incidentally, he encouraged girls to attend his lectures in medical school when this was a radical step.

At the same time the largest segment of the public did not think of Kirtland as a physician at all. Farmers thought of him as a horticulturist. He wrote extensively in the farm magazines of the day on a wide range of topics including the use of windmills. The orchardists particularly claimed him, since from boyhood he had been interested in grafting fruit trees and had developed 30 varieties of cherries. He believed that farmers should be as well educated as engineers and worked tirelessly for the establishment of a school of agriculture, which he lived to see accomplished at Columbus.

Among scientists today, Kirtland is remembered primarily as a zoologist. For the state geological survey, he prepared the first catalogs of the mammals of Ohio, reptiles of Ohio, fishes of Ohio, molluscs of Ohio, and birds of Ohio. He added more birds to the list of Ohio than any other man before or since. Six species of plants and animals were named in his honor. He achieved international fame by reorganizing the classification of the freshwater mussels by showing that the males and females looked so different they had been incorrectly placed in separate species.

All of these intellectual pursuits would seem to have been enough, but Dr. Kirtland somehow found time also to be active in public affairs. Early in his career in Connecticut he served as probate judge. Later in Ohio he served three terms in the state legislature, where he was regarded the father of prison reform, and even at that early date was urging that prisoners be allowed to do useful work. He was an early advocate of equal education for women.

He was a man of independent mind, and he often expressed himself pungently. He said, "I have not much faith in the intelligence of the majority of our population." (Could such a man be elected to public office today?) In his time a popular kind of medicine was homeopathy, which got its name from the belief that "like cured like," and prescribed minute doses of medicine that in a well person would cause symptoms similar to those of the patient. Even in my youth doctors of this kind were still in practice and were known as pink-pill doctors. Kirtland characterized homeopathy as "absurdity fostered by credulity." Now we can smile because homeopathy is dead, but in Kirtland's day it was flourished and such forthright views often cost friendships.

Although his knowledge in a dozen fields was far above that of nearly all those around him, his simplicity and lack of egotism were proverbial. Although outspoken on issues, he was kindly and tolerant with individuals. His students remembered him with affection and his neighbors with admiration. An incident from his later life illustrates his unpretentious manner and lively sense of humor.

His fame was such that distinguished men from the East and from Europe stopped in Cleveland to see him. One of these stopped his carriage at the Kirtland home, and seeing an old man in straw hat and overalls hoeing among the flowers, asked, "Is this the home of Professor Kirtland?"

The man replied, "It is."

"Is Professor Kirtland home?"

"He is."

"Well, my man, come and hold my horse."

The old man advanced and held the stranger's horse while the visitor smoothed his coat and went to the door. His knock was answered by Dr. Kirtland's daughter. The visitor inquired, "Where can I find the renowned Professor Kirtland?"

The daughter answered, "He's out there in the street holding some man's horse."

Indeed, this is a name to wear with pride.

This week is National Tennis Week to celebrate the game which began on the estate of Major Walter Clopton Wingfield in 1873 in England.

And for you golfers who have tried everything how about the Midnight Cup Golf Tournament to be held in Oslo and Trondheim in Norway. Any participant gets a certificate for playing in the Midnight Sun for the first time. I guess that's a golfer's dream...24 hours of daylight.

To The Rescue!

We'll all be better off with troopers on Detroit freeways

Richard Milliken

The battle of the freeways is shaping up as one of the most volatile—and most unexpected—political wrangles of at least the decade.

The Michigan Legislature must decide which of three agencies shall provide patrol protection on the freeway system within the City of Detroit—the Michigan State Police, the Detroit City Police, or the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

For about a year now, the State Police have been assigned to patrol duty on freeways within the city. The troopers were called in after a Detroit city budget squeeze caused city police to draw in their horns, and the state record on the city expressways has been exemplary.

Now the county wants in on the act, with the AFL-CIO—which just incidentally happens to be the bargaining agent for Wayne County deputies—championing the County's side in the legislature.

Detroit Mayor Coleman Young wants the freeway assignment back, too—if the state will pay the city for the trouble, so the city can pay the police. Mayor Young has an automatic reflex: When he sees a dollar bill, his hand stretches out, palm upward.

Gov. Milliken, says it's "essential" that the state continue its patrol job, and it would be "a major mistake" to change signals now.

"It's important because of the record they have achieved, the symbolic value within that community of the presence of the State Police, and the feeling of security that has come as a result of their presence on those expressways," Gov. Milliken said recently. He's right, too.

Milliken and the State Police must be wondering about the vagaries of public decision-making.

A year ago, when the alarm went out for State Police help, freeway travel in Detroit had become a genuine adventure in many cases. Although most motorists obviously completed their freeway travels without incident, enough cases of assault and theft and robbery and other crimes were spotlighted to cause genuine concern.

So the State Police rode to the rescue, breaking with years of tradition and piling up more state expenses "to help Detroit"—and warding off some outstate criticism to boot. The experiment worked; Gov. Milliken claims that not a single felony has been reported on a Detroit freeway since a car stripping last October.

Now, less than a year later, the state troopers are treated by their big-city colleagues in the county and city departments as unwanted poachers.

AH, the political nature; it is a wonder to behold.

The key, of course, is the union status of the Wayne County deputies. Several face possible layoff because of county budget crunch, and who ever heard of a unionized deputy being laid off while some non-AFL-CIO troopers are out riding shotgun in the same vicinity? Not if the big-city labor boys can help it.

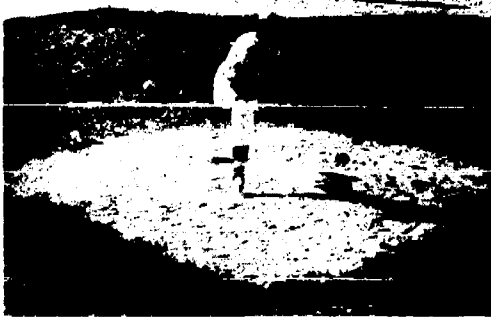

The specific suggestion of the city and county is for the state to reimburse the local units for freeway patrol, thus freeing the state troopers of such an onerous task, and incidentally providing state-paid jobs for unionized local cops.

The question of local control is also brought into play in the overall strategy to kick out the troopers, and I'll have to concede a point on that one.

But the overall question is what is best for the taxpayers. I agree with Gov. Milliken—which in itself is getting to be a rare event.

The people of Michigan will be better served by state troopers on city freeways. They should keep the assignment.

Little League Action

by Jeff Schrader

Cornell Realty split a pair of contests against Rochettes last week and is hanging on to a 1-game lead in Minor Division play. Moose Lodge posted a victory over Millikin Wednesday night to maintain a 2-game bulge over Bear Archery in the Majors. Foodland and Rotary, Major and Minor Squads respectively, both broke into the winning column with wins during the week. Foodland won a squeaker over Legion, 13-12 while Rotary posted a similar victory over Bear Archery on Thursday, 12-11. Last week's results:

Major Division
Foodland, 13	Legion, 12
Bear Archery, 13	Bank, 2
Moose Lodge, 10	Millikin, 4
Bank, 17	Legion, 11
Millikin, 19	Foodland, 5

Minor Division
Rochettes, 22 Cornell, 5
Bear Archery, 21 Rotary, 17
Cornell, 11 Rochettes, 10
Rotary, 12 Bear Archery, 11

Take a look at the number of runs scored in the league last week, a whopping 219 tallies, and you'll know there's never a dull moment during the Little League play. If you want to join in on the excitement, journey on out to Millikin Field on No. Down River Road any weekday evening—Minor Division games begin at 4 p.m. with the Majors following at 6 o'clock.

Moose Lodge shortstop John Dannenberg topped an "over-the-fence homer" trophy Wednesday night when he batted a line drive over the leftfield fence in the fifth inning against Millikin. League President Harold Baker presented the award. Harold also asks all players, manager and coaches to turn in their candy sale money this week.

All Star team manager Tom Trenary will be making selection for this year's squad in the next couple of weeks, so get out there and show your stuff, guys and gals, the roster must be turned by July 8th. Grayling will meet Onaway in its opening game in Alpena in late July. Further details in the tourney and team selections will appear

Club Meets

Ten members of the Past Noble Grands Club of Lottie A. Rebekah Lodge #132 of West Branch met at the home of Mrs. Thelma Dent of Grayling. A hearty lunch was served by the hostess after which a short business meeting was held. New officers of the club were elected and the annual picnic was planned. This will be held at the roadside park on M-33 east of West Branch, July 27 at 6:30 p.m. The club will now recess until Sept. 21st when the meeting will be held at the home of the President, Martha McIntire of West Branch.

Following the business meeting, eight games of euchre were played with prizes going to Mrs. Lela Dembach, Mrs. Stella Gussman and Mrs. Dorothy Roth.

CB'ing at Random

by "Handcuff" KCL-7369
Coffee Break—is defined in Webster's Dictionary as a brief respite from work. When coffee is taken.

There is also another definition of the word Coffee Break that Mr. Webster does not include in his dictionary. I am speaking of a CB Coffee Break. About the only thing that is the same, is that coffee is taken there also, great amounts if it, at that.

So, What is a CB Coffee Break?

Well, it's a gathering of CB'ers in a designated location, where they get together to drink coffee, gallons of it, and swap tales, look at lots of radio equipment, and generally have a good time. It's a good place to meet some of the faces that go with the voices that are heard over the CB, but seldom seen. Have you ever wondered what all those people with the strange sounding handles looked like? Well, a coffee break is the place to find out.

Many Breakers are also a sort of mini trade show, where CB dealers set up booths and display their equipment to the public. Many dealers have special prices and discounts that are offered during the Break. Some of the booths will have other items for sale also.

Coffee Breaks are usually sponsored by a local CB club and there are usually various door prizes, grand prizes, and other money making activities going on to raise money for good causes.

Next Sunday, June 26th, there will be a Coffee Break in Grayling. It will be the Second Annual Grayling Area Coffee Break and it will run from 10 am till 6 pm. It is being co-sponsored by the AuSable Emergency Radio Team and the Crawford Co. Citizens Radio Watch. I am told that a percentage of the proceeds will be donated to the Grayling Fire Department and the Grayling Boosters Club.

The members of the two clubs have been working hard to have everything ready for the occasion. It will be held in the Crawford Co. Road Commission garage on M-72. There will be lots of parking, and I'm sure that everybody will have a good time.

The admission is Free, and so is the Coffee.

For those who have never attended a CB Coffee Break, I urge you to attend this one. You will have a good time and will meet a lot of CB Good Buddies.

Middle School Annual Field Day Held

On June 7th, the fifth and sixth grades enjoyed their annual field day at the football field. From the looks of these pictures, one can imagine the excitement of the competition of the day. And all this is just the beginning of the summer fun. Have patience Mom and Dad, it has been said that adolescence is a time of rapid changes. Between the ages of 11 and 17, for example, a parent ages as much as 20 years. Have a nice summer!

Named Outstanding Students

The students below were nominated by their teachers as "outstanding" students for the month of May, at the Grayling Middle School. Their selection was based on scholastic achievements, citizenship and outstanding efforts in the classroom.

Pictured below are Dave Ragan (left), eighth grader and son of Mrs. Etta Ragan of Grayling; John Reed, seventh grader and son of Mrs. Janet Reed of Frederic; Ken Nowlin, seventh grader and son of Mr. and Mrs. William Nowlin of 905 Park St. in Grayling.

Those eighth graders absent are as follows: Kay Ely, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ely of Grayling; Jay Schrader, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Schrader of 110 Barbara St. in Grayling; and Gussy Konopnick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Konopnick of Grayling.

The seventh graders absent are as follows: Matt Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Reeves of Grayling; Pat Bennett, son of Mrs. Dorothy Bowler of Grayling and Ted Methner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Methner of Grayling.

Due to the various field trips we were unable to take the 5th and 6th grade pictures but their names are as follows:

5th Grade-Karyn Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kent Reynolds of 404 Park St. in Grayling; John Wejrowski, son of Mrs. Mary Wejrowski of Grayling and Roger Moon, son of Mrs. Orvetta Elliott of Grayling.

6th Grade-Pam Lenning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lenning of Grayling; John Knuth, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Allen of Grayling; Joe VanNuck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph VanNuck of Grayling; Margaret Byce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Byce of 507 Green Place in Grayling; Bobby Ryan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ryan of Grayling and Heidi Ferguson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ferguson of Grayling.

Special Olympics Winners

On June 25 the Michigan Special Olympics were held at Central Michigan University in Mt. Pleasant. About 150 mentally handicapped people participated in a variety of track, field, swimming and bowling events.

Robert Bull, pictured above, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bull of Grayling, participated as a representative of Grayling Middle School. Robert competed in the softball throw, for which he won a gold medal, and in the 50 yard dash, for which he won a silver medal.

Placed 4th, Robert competed in the Regional Special Olympics in West Branch, Mo. on May 13 where he placed 4th in the softball throw. David LaMatte, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald LaMatte of Grayling and Doug Good, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Good of Frederic, also competed in the Regional Special Olympics in West Branch.

Robert, Doug and David are all students in Miss Deb Untor's Resource Room at Grayling Middle School. By Deborah K. Untor

SECOND GRADERS CAMP OUT—Mrs. Yatich's second grade class spent Monday and Tuesday June 6 and 7 on an overnight campout at Yogi Bear Jellystone Campground. Fifteen parents participated, some of them even staying overnight in the large tent. Father grilled hamburgers and had pancakes and sausages ready for the early morning risers. Twenty-seven children filled up the tent with wall to wall sleeping bags. They also enjoyed swimming, miniature golf, a nature hike, crayon rubbings, and kick ball.

Attend the Church of Your Choice

But wherever it shines, there are shadows.

Wherever there are golden opportunities there are also sombre tragedies. Some fail to grasp their blessings.

Ours is a nation which guarantees to every child the opportunity for religious training. Yet ours is a nation which smarts under the scourge of a moral disease—juvenile delinquency.

In blessing you with a son or daughter, God has entrusted to you a precious soul. You are required by law to give your child a secular education. But, despite the scourge of delinquency, a free nation must leave to your conscience the question of your child's moral and religious education.

God has blessed America. With a nearby Church ready and eager to provide Christian training for your child, and religious foundation for your family's life—the Sun shines bright. But there are shadows. You must decide!

no decision on the possibility of another election until after July 1 when the new board takes over. By then the recount would be completed since he said it is expected to be done this week.

Dean says the cost of the recount is only $10 per precinct or $20 in total for both. He said this was a considerable saving compared to the cost of running another election. Estimates on the cost of this have ranged from $2500 to $3,000.

In other business the board: approved a motion to request an inspection by the state officials of the athletic field electric lights and wiring. The board wants recommendations to concerning the safety of the system. The board will on the basis of that decision know what the best route is to follow in dealing with the controversial issue of running or new construction.

tion and Director of Community and Student Services. The upper level will have space for the college board and conference room and an office for the college president as well as accounting and business centers.

The ground level will have space for a maintenance shop, vehicle garage, storage area and a large printing shop.

According to the program statement on the project there has been a continuous growth of the college student population in the past five years but no physical expansion at the campus.

This has resulted in overcrowding in many areas. This growth has reached a point where there is no longer a practical solution. There are definite needs for increased classroom space, laboratories and other facilities," says the statement. Much of this space is available but is being occupied by administration offices, the present and maintenance shops. Once the new building is constructed this space will be renovated for laboratory and classroom space.

Construction of the building could lead to an additional 3 or 4 of a million taxes according to Dean Ostrander, the Dean of Business Affairs.

Grayling, Michigan 49738

Open Letter to Crawford County Residents

In past few years the Grayling Youth Booster Club has accomplished such goals as the highly successful 4th of July celebrations (this year, July 3rd.)

Purchase of various types of equipment for the High school athletic program.

$600. donation to the Youth Bowling League.
$500. to the C.O.O.R. workshop for handicapped children.
$750. to the Special Olympics for handicapped.
Purchased playground equip. for the Lovells Park.
Purchase of fencing for the Frederic tennis courts.
$600. donation to Little League baseball for the 1977 season.
Also several other youth projects too numerous to mention.
As you can see the above can be quite expensive.

All these projects are accomplished through generous contributions of the membership and the business community in Crawford County.

We now have a new business in town--McDonald's--that is also interested in the welfare of our community. For example, his slogan for June 28th, 1977, is as follows: LARGE FRIES for the SMALL FRIES."

To explain this slogan further: the McDonald's of Grayling, Inc., are generously donating all proceeds from the sale of large fries for this date to the Grayling Youth Booster Club, for small fries, which is the youth of Crawford County.

Your wholehearted support of this project will be greatly appreciated by the Grayling Youth Booster Club.

Any other donations can be made by mailing check or money order to Grayling Youth Booster Club, P.O. Box 279, Grayling, MI. 49738.

See you at McDonald's. Thank you for your continued support.

Signed,
Officers and Board Members

Danny Davis and the Nashville Brass

Traverse City's Glacier Dome presents it's second big-name concert of the season on Saturday, June 25, when it brings to it's stage Danny Davis and his exciting trumpet and his unique country brass band, will be Buddy Alan, son of Buck Owens, and featured performer on television's popular Hee-Haw.

In founding The Nashville Brass, Danny Davis has created one of the greatest musical phenomena of all time — something uniquely different in country music. Stimulating and arousing in their sound, country-pop in their format, and "big Band" in their style, The Nashville Brass appears consistently before sell-out audiences. Last year they played a record 324 concerts in 287 days!

Twice Danny Davis and the Nashville Brass have won the Grammy Award and they received the Country Music Association's Best Instrumental Group of the Year Award for six consecutive years.

Danny Davis himself, possessor of a wry wit and a thundering trumpet, is a seasoned stage entertainer. Not only is he a superb trumpet player, but he has the kind of stage presence that makes an audience howl instinctively. The personable, veteran performer played at the New England Conservatory of Music. Later he was the featured trumpeter in the bands of Gene Krupa, Bob Crosby, Hal Mayberry, Art Mooney, Freddie Martin, Vincent Lopez, Blue Banno, and Sammy Kaye.

Advance tickets, $56.00 for the June 25, Glacier Dome concert, featuring Danny Davis and the Nashville Brass and Hee-Haw's Buddy Alan, are available at Ben Franklin Family Center (Grayling) and Glen's Market (Gaylord). Tickets will be $1.00 more at the door.

School Board Candidates Must File Campaign Expense

Secretary of State Richard H. Austin has received an answer from the Attorney General to his request for clarification of the Campaign Finance Reporting requirements of school board candidates involved in elections being held across the state Monday, June 13.

According to the Opinion issued by Mr. Keiley, all school board candidates must file post election campaign statements of money collected and spent by their candidate committees. However, these statements need only include receipts and disbursements made after June 1, 1977.

These post-election campaign statements must be filed with county clerks within 30 days following the election (by July 13). Mr. Austin also reminded these candidates that they must file Statements of Organization of their candidate committees with county clerks if they haven't already done so.

The Attorney General's Opinion also states that these candidates do not have to file pre-election campaign statements which would have been due June 3.

program and asked the possibility of picking up a $300,000 from UGLRC to construct a facility. (Earlier Rehberg had estimated it would cost at least that for a complete new facility).

Rehberg pointed out that the UGLRC was more interested in seeing the school at the present site than in losing the money spent there already and then starting all over somewhere else. He said that most UGLRC grants were below $50,000 and added that for his operation a $100,000 grant was reaching the limits. "A quarter of a million dollars would be a good grant from the UGLRC," he said.

"I would like to defer the search for other sites until after Sept. 30," he added.

The board discussed the several alternatives including moving the aviation course to a site at the college. They also asked Jennings to look into the possibility of leasing some other piece of ground from the military for the expansion. Some other land is available near the present site which could be possibly used for the new building and for which the college could obtain a clear lease.

Families To Host Exchange Students

Two international exchange students will be arriving this summer to live with area families for a year and attend high school as part of the Youth for Understanding exchange program.

Carole Oneyser of Switzerland will live with Mr. and Mrs. Donald Van de Ven of Grayling and Anne Mette Austmyr of Norway will join the Charles Fick family of Grayling.

The Youth for Understanding committee in Grayling wishes to thank the following organizations and people for their contributions to Joan Baynam: Grayling OES, FOE Eagles Auxiliary, Dr. Dosch and Burkle, St. Mary Altar Society, and the Lovells Extension Group.

Joan will be leaving Detroit of July 13 for the Netherlands. She will spend four weeks in an orientation program before being placed with a Dutch family for the year.

YFU committee are Mrs. Norman Feldhauser and Mrs. Philip Townley. They are replacing Mrs. Mahlon Riker and Mrs. Don Jansen who have resigned. Mrs. Jansen has served since the original committee was formed in the fall of 1962 by the Grayling PTA. We'd like to thank these ladies for their help in the program.

Arlene Thomas, Youth For Understanding Area Representative for Crawford County said, that host families welcome students into their homes and make them a part of the family. The hosts are expected to provide basic necessities of housing and food, but beyond that the student is responsible for all costs including medical insurance. "The government allows host families to deduct up to $50 a month from their income tax to cover the cost of an exchange student," said Mrs. Thomas. Anyone interested in hosting a student in the future should contact Mrs. Bovee at 348-7017.
